

Press Release

Release Date: 25th April, 2008

Powerful New Web Site Launched By Control Risks Screening

Control Risks Screening, the global employee background screening provider, today launched www.controlrisks-screening.com, a new website dedicated to employee screening with added features, superior technology, and a dynamic new look.

“The new web site allows us to completely maximise and share globally more than 10 years of experience and knowledge on the best practices in employment screening,” says Managing Director, Jonny Cray. “It is the perfect gateway to our new screening platform.”

The new site provides users with a much improved online experience that includes:

- Improved Navigation – Web pages function in an intuitive and consistent manner, simplifying the process for users to find what they are looking for, and know where they are within the site.
- Improved Look and Feel – Enhanced graphics and the new page layouts provide users with a fresh and up to date experience.
- New Features – Many new features as well as more detailed product information, news, and resources.
